SENATOR KELLY: Mr. President, members of the Legislature, Senator Frank Lewis, the Chairman of the Education Committee, handled this bill at my request. What it does is those 275 or so young people annually that work overtime under adverse conditions to complete their high school equivalency programs, so that they are qualified high school graduates, receive a certificate. I would like to see them, as all the other people that qualify as high school graduates, receive a diploma. That is the whole intent and purpose of 449.
